1. Demonstrate deeper learning (knowledge & skills) from the area of concentration as well as humanities & arts, social & behavioral sciences, natural science and mathematics for contextual application and systematic generalization (transfer).

2. Articulate critical thinking skills towards becoming a lifelong learner.

3. Demonstrate effective communication skills by progressively applying acquired knowledge and experiences in listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

4. Utilize current, practical and meaningful research, information and technology (literacy skills) for increased personal productivity as a lifelong learner.

5. Demonstrate personal and professional growth to solve problems through teamwork and towards becoming a lifelong learner.

6. Demonstrate personal and professional growth through increased self-awareness in a civil society, global perception, and social interaction and towards becoming a lifelong learner.

7. Articulate a sense of personal values, ethical standards, and moral responsibilities and towards becoming a lifelong learner.

8. Integrate concepts and applies processes in emerging work environment and towards becoming a lifelong learner.